A34 JUNCTION SET FOR WORK

Tour of Britain comes to Blewbury

HUNDREDS of people lined the streets of Blewbury, near Didcot, last Friday as the Tour of Britain sped through southern Oxfordshire.

Cycling fans cheered 'go, go, Wiggo' as the peloton raced through the village.

And as the leading group approached Blewbury from Wantage, British rider Alex Dowsett pulled away to win the Oxfordshire sprint stage, crossing the line first at The Blueberry pub.

MAJOR works on a £10million scheme to turn Milton Interchange into a 'hamburger roundabout' are set to begin at the end of next month.

Oxfordshire County Council expect work to start on October 27 and finish a year later.

And on Tuesday, the county council's cabinet met at County Hall, on New Road in Oxford, to delegate responsibility for awarding a contract for the scheme to the director for environment and economy and the leader of the council, Ian Hudspeth.

Cllr Hudspeth said a contractor would be announced "shortly" and added the project will be beneficial to all road users.

"It will make the transition from the A4130 in Didcot onto the A34 much easier," he said.

"Also you will have the added benefit that the roundabout won't be so congested for the people coming off south and going to Steventon or Didcot."

He continued: "They should not experience so many delays and it should improve the capacity at the junction which is the most important thing so that people can travel through far quicker."

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The county council, Local Enterprise Partnership and £5m of Local Pinch Point Funding from the Department of Transport will fund the £10.625million project.

The scheme will require a new structure under the A34 and the county council and the Highways Agency will carry out the project.

Milton Interchange will be fitted with a 'hamburger' link from the westbound A4130 heading onto the northbound carriageway of the A34 towards Oxford.

Other proposals include widening the Milton Park link, eastbound A4130 and southbound A34 off-slip approaches to four lanes.

Amid recent traffic jams on the A34, as a result of the contraflow system on the outskirts of Oxford, Cllr Hudspeth said the Milton Interchange works will inevitably cause increased delays.

"We apologise for any inconvenience that occurs, however the end result will be beneficial to everybody," he added.

"Obviously, roadworks do cause disruption to travel arrangements so we do ask people to perhaps look at a different route.

"We understand the disruption but it is to improve the roads and that is ultimately the best for everybody."

Milton Interchange falls within the Vale of White Horse District Council's boundaries and leader Matthew Barber said the work is "much needed".

He added: "This will be a great help to dealing with the traffic around there.

"Inevitably it is going to cause some disruption while the work is going on but hopefully once it is completed it will increase the capacity of that junction."

The scheme is linked to another county council project to build north-facing slips at Chilton Interchange, set to cost around £11m.

However, the project is currently at risk as Chilton Parish Council, a statutory consultee, objected to the plans.

A public inquiry could be held and subsequently the scheme would face delays, putting its application for £5m of Pinch Point Funding, which has a required spend by March 2015, at risk.

Iron Age mirror to stay in county

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

AN OXFORDSHIRE museum has been successful in raising £33,000 to keep an Iron Age bronze mirror in the county and its director says the news is "better than champagne".

The Oxfordshire Museum, in Park Street, Woodstock, had until September 12 to raise the funds to keep the mirror on British soil after it was recently sold to an anonymous bidder.

An export bar was placed on the mirror in April, and now the museum and its charity The Friends of The Oxfordshire Museum are awaiting its return to the county.

"It's fantastic," said Carol Anderson, director of the Oxfordshire Museum, "it is better than champagne."

The mirror, the only one to be found in Oxfordshire and dates back to the 1st century BC, was discovered near Didcot in 2007.

The Friends of the Oxfordshire Museum raised £16,000 through public donations and grants from the ACE/V&A Purchase Grant Fund, The Headley Trust and jewellers Wartski made up the final total.

Ms Anderson added: "I think it is wonderful that so many people have got involved with this.

"It is a very important object and as equally important is that so many other people think so as well.

"It shows the museum is a part of a much bigger community and it makes me feel wonderfully excited."

The mirror will be put on temporary display at the Cornerstone Arts Centre, Station Road, Didcot, by the end of the year, before it becomes part of an exhibition at The Oxfordshire Museum.

Ms Anderson said: "It will form part of a new temporary exhibition in April 2015 which will explore craftsmanship and metal working in Oxfordshire.

"We will be doing a lot of investigation and this is not the end of the story, it is the beginning.

"Once we have got it we want to do research and investigation with Oxford University to find out more and unravel its story."

Dozens expected for Clumps' run

MORE than 100 people are expected to take part in a brand new cross-country run around Wittenham Clumps this Sunday, raising money for the Earth Trust.

The 10km run will see participants running through Little Wittenham Wood, past the River of Life wetland, before the iconic Clumps.

"Thousands of people visit the Clumps each year but not many of these feel compelled to run up and down them!" said event organiser Mark Tindall.

"But we realised that there were a large number of fitness groups, runners and running enthusiasts who use the site and this encouraged us to set up the race," he added.

"We think everyone who takes part will enjoy the challenging, yet beautiful, landscape that the nature reserve provides."

Funds raised by the run will go into supporting the Earth Trust's work at the Clumps, with prizes on offer for the first male and first female to cross the line.

"I'll be taking part myself, along with a few other members of staff, and look forward to tackling this unique challenge," Mark added.

"The race will be taking place whatever the weather so be sure you and your supporters come prepared."

Jewellery taken

BLACK BOURTON: Police are appealing for witnesses after a number of items of jewellery were stolen from a house in Alvescot Road.

Thieves broke into the house between 8.45pm and 9.15pm last Saturday, getting in through an unsecure back door while the victim was in the garden.

Once inside the offenders, believed to be two men, stole various items of jewellery and left through the front door.

They are described as white, in their mid 30s and of average build and height.

Anyone with information is asked to contact PC Lisa Chapman from Witney police station on the police's non-emergency number 101.

Fire in Cowley

OXFORD: Fire crews were called to a property in Cowley on Tuesday morning after a tumble dryer caught fire.

Two engines attended the Wilkins Road house at around 8.40am, where crews were met with smoke coming out of the back door and a blaze in the kitchen.

They were able to move the tumble dryer outside before using a fan to remove smoke from inside the house.

Watch manager Will McPhail said: "The fact that the occupants had closed the door to the kitchen as they evacuated and called us straight away minimised the damage to the property and ensured everyone was safe."

Flasher on loose

DIDCOT: A man who exposed himself to a number of people in Ladygrove Park is being sought by police.

The exposures took place between 2.30pm and 3.30pm on September 4, and the man is believed to have used a grey or champagne colour Volkswagen car.

He is described as in his 20s, between 5ft 10ins and 6ft, with short brown hair, and was wearing a grey t-shirt and hi-vis yellow trousers.

Senior investigating officer Det Con Frankie Jarvis said: "This case continues to be investigated."

Call 101 with information.

Keeping Oxford clean

A CAMPAIGN which aims to rid the city of chewing gum and litter returns for a second year this month.

Oxford City Council's Cleaner and Greener campaign began on Monday and runs until October 10.

This year's four-week campaign will include street cleaning, distribution of personal gum and butt bins, environmental building checks and travel initiatives.

John Tanner, the city council's board member for Cleaner, Greener Oxford said: "The public and the shops responded fantastically to the City Council's first campaign – using the litter bins and keeping the place tidy.

"This time we are cleaning the ghastly gum from the streets, making it easier for people to recycle their litter and stopping cycling at busy times in Queen Street and Cornmarket.

"With the support of shoppers, students and visitors, we can make the centre of Oxford shine.

"It's vital for shops, businesses and the university that we have a city centre we can all be proud of."

There will also be one-off events around the city.

On Sunday, the Berkshire, Buckinghamshire and Oxfordshire Wildlife Trust (BBOWT) will be at Oxford Castle, New Road, to encourage people to make environmental pledges.

Turning up the volume in memory of Freddie

A SPECIAL charity concert to remember a 10-year-old boy who was hit by a car in Didcot just over a year ago is being held in Oxford this Saturday.

Freddie Perry died on September 11 last year, a day after he was hit by a car driven by a teacher at his sister's school in Oxford Crescent.

Family and friends set up the Freddie Perry Foundation last year and are now putting on a 12-hour concert dubbed 'Fred Fest' this weekend.

Taking place at the Christian Life Centre, in Cowley Road, Oxford, at least 11 acts will be performing from midday to midnight.

Get Loose, Cop Out, Short Drag Roger, The Rollrights, Jonny Snatch and the love worms, Terminus, Sylva Kay, Gypsy Miguel, Chris White, Steve Harris and Dave Stenton will be among those performing.

Freddie's father Lea, 40, a Stagecoach bus driver, said the musical acts all consist of his work colleagues.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"A lot of lads at work are in bands from jazz, to sea shanty, to rock," he said.

"It is a family day and we have got a virtually half price bar.

"There will be a barbecue and face painting for the kids to keep them entertained."

All the proceeds from the concert will go towards the Freddie Perry Foundation's fight for road safety.

So far the foundation has donated £10,000 to the Paediatric Intensive Care Unit at the John Radcliffe Hospital and charity Down's Syndrome Oxford.

Mr Perry added: "All the bands are doing this for nothing and raising money for road safety so onwards and upwards."

On September 4, a new 20mph speed limit, a single kerb build-out and road hump was approved for Oxford Crescent by Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for Envrionment, David Nimmo Smith.

Mr Perry said he felt "very emotional" and "extremely pleased" by the decision and how his son had "given his life to save others."

An inquest into Freddie's death on April 23, recorded a verdict of accidental death.

It heard the Stephen Freeman Community Primary School pupil was on his phone when he ran out between a van and a people carrier.

Didcot Girls' School teacher Joanne Napper was driving towards Wantage Road when Freddie ran out in front of her Nissan Micra.

Fred Fest tickets can be bought from wegottickets.com or on the door and cost £10.

Entry to the event for under 18's is free when accompanied by a paying adult.

Quarry campaign making progress

PROTESTORS who are campaigning against a potential gravel pit and concrete processing plant within five miles of Didcot say they have made a "good start" to their fundraising efforts.

Residents in Clifton Hampden, Burcot, Long Wittenham, Culham and Appleford fear the 160-hectare development will ruin the countryside and add more traffic to already clogged up rural roads.

Waste disposal company Hills want to build the plant east of the railway at Culham and south of the A415, and plan to submit an application in December.

And campaign group Burcot and Clifton Hampden for the Protection of the River Thames (BACHPORT) plans to raise around £26,000 to hire legal help and fight an impending planning application.

"We have made a very good start," said BACHPORT spokesman Ian Mason.

"We have decided not to tell people how much we have raised yet as we want everybody to have a chance to contribute."

Signs in protest of the quarry have also gone up in Clifton Hampden.

A blue Renault Clio left the road and a 19-year-old man was trapped inside with the car buried in the undergrowth.

Police, ambulance and fire services all attended the scene and the man was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital, New Road, Headington.

Anyone who saw the vehicle when it was driving towards Didcot between 3am and 6am should call police on 101.

CHEERS of 'go, go, Wiggo' came from the crowds on pavements of south Oxfordshire to cheer the Tour of Britain cyclists speeding past on Friday.

Wantage, Blewbury and Cholsey hosted the UK's biggest cycle race as the peloton of the world's best cyclists flew by.

Cycling fan Marina Poulter and daughter Aurelia, two, were among thousands watching along Newbury Street by the Lord Nelson pub in Wantage.

Mrs Poulter, from Wolage Drive, said: "It was great, we saw Bradley Wiggins – his tattoo gave him away. It was a bit special really.

"It is fantastic because I've never seen it before so we wanted to come and support it coming through our town.

"And it is inspiring for Aurelia – we want to get her into cycling too. It is different when you see it in person."

Aurelia, who decorated her tricycle for the occasion, added: "Go go Wiggo. I like cycling – it's fun."

The peloton crossed into Oxfordshire at about 1pm during the stage six sprint stages of the race.

About 200 seven to 11-year-olds from Charlton Primary School lined the route by Charlton Village Road.

Teacher Daniel Oyston said: "It was superb, they kids really enjoyed it.

"They were excited for it all week and have been studying all the cyclists."

After a series of warnings by police motorbikes the group of cyclists – including Brits Bradley Wiggins, Mark Cavendish and Alex Dowsett - raced past.

Dowsett was third in a breakaway group of three which pulled ahead of the main peloton by eight minutes 30 seconds as they came through Wantage.

As the leading three approached Blewbury, Dowsett pulled away to win the Oxfordshire sprint stage by crossing the line first at The Blueberry pub.

Grove resident Sue Foster, 52, said: "Standing by the kids was really good fun and gave it a bit of a buzz – they were so excited whenever anything went by."

Their tour through Oxfordshire was day six of eight for the cyclists, who started in Liverpool on September 7 and finished in London on Sunday.

Dutchman Dylan van Baarle claimed victory in the tour ahead of Michal Kwiatkowski.

Vox Box

Simon Chesher, 32, from north Wantage:
"It was fantastic, the atmosphere was brilliant.
"When you watch it on the telly you don't realise everything that goes into it before and after.
"The noise and wind coming off the peloton as they went past was amazing."

Iain Foster, 52, from Grove:
"You can't explain why it is so good because it is so fast."

School places

OXON: Applications are now open for children who are due to start primary and secondary school in September 2015.

When applying parents should state three preferences, including their catchment school.

To apply for primary and secondary school places, visit oxfordshire.gov.uk.

The deadline for primary applications is January 15, while for secondary it is October 31.

Ear bitten off

WITNEY: A 23-year-old man has been arrested after another man was left with a severed ear after he was bitten in the Norton Bar in Langdale Gate on Saturday evening.

The incident occurred at around 11.30pm, and the victim was left with the top section of his ear having been bitten off.

The man arrested on suspicion of causing grievous bodily harm with intent has been released on bail until November 9.

Theft arrests

WITNEY: Three men have been arrested following a spate of thefts from vehicles in Witney.

The men, aged 31, 26 and 25 and all from Oxford, have been released on bail until October 28.

It is in connection with thefts in the town earlier this week.

Crowding problem on Oxford's trains

THREE of the 10 most overcrowded train routes of autumn 2013 in England and Wales started their service in Oxfordshire, figures released by the Department for Transport have revealed.

The 7.21am service from Oxford to London Paddington was third on the list with a load factor of 173 per cent.

Banbury Station's 6.07am service to Paddington was seventh with a 157 per cent load factor, while Oxford's 7am train to the same station was 10th.

The figures show that overall congestion on the top-10 train routes has increased slightly compared to spring last year.

Transport minister Claire Perry said: "Since 1995 passenger journeys on the railway have more than doubled.

"This means that on too many journeys, passengers have to stand in cramped conditions.

"Train operators must act now – they must find new ways to create space on the network and in their trains."

First Great Western operate the routes from Oxford and Banbury to London Paddington.

Spokesperson Vicky Cropper said: "Despite the lack of availability of suitable additional trains in the UK, we have worked hard to create the additional capacity we know our customers want to see.

"We are converting first class carriages to add an additional standard carriage on each high speed train service. This will add 3,000 standard seats.

"We recognise that there is still much to do and we are working with the Department for Transport to secure further service improvements."

Richard Stow, chairman of rail services campaign group Railfuture Thames Valley, believes that the money being spent by the government on improving the railways will help the problem.

This includes the building of a new Oxford Parkway station north of the city, and the renovation of Oxford station itself over the next few years.

Mr Stow said: "Railfuture welcomes the government's investment in rail services in Oxfordshire, and hopefully within the next two or three years these overcrowding issues should be a thing of the past."

He continued: "Overcrowding is a symptom of the industry in attracting more passengers and reducing road congestion.

"I have been astonished by the growth in passenger traffic and that people are switching to rail from car use.

"It is quite stunning."

Steventon homes plan submitted

A PLANNING application to build 65 homes in Steventon has been submitted to Vale of White Horse District Council.

Developers Gladman Developments Ltd want to build the new dwellings on farm land at Barnett Road, off Hanney Road.

Thirty-nine of the homes at the proposed development will be market housing, while 19 will be rented and seven affordable.

Steventon Parish Council has yet to discuss the plans, but is expected to at its next meeting on October 7.

Parish clerk Angela Einon said: "I cannot pre-empt what they will say, but the general feeling is that we are being overwhelmed by homes which is the same for everybody else."

Gladman Development's application was submitted to the district council on September 8 and the consultation period ends on October 15.

The council's planning committee could make a decision on the application on December 8.

As the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print, only one response had been submitted with the Health and Housing Environmental Protection Team at the district council declaring no objection to the plans.

Massive turn out for Blenheim Horse Trials

THOUSANDS of people watched British riders fill the top six places at the Blenheim Palace International Horse Trials on Sunday, with Francis Whittington winning the event.

Whittington jumped a perfect clear round on horse Easy Target to seal victory at the 24th staging of the trials at Blenheim, finishing ahead of Olympic medal winner William Fox-Pitt.

Jodie Amos recorded a career-best third place, with Pippa Funnell fourth, Whittington fifth on another horse, and Kitty King in sixth position.

Whittington's win came 21 years after becoming the first boy to win the Pony European Championships, and was his first major international triumph.

"I am just so pleased," said Whittington, "It's been a long wait and so it means an awful lot.

"I remembered back when I won that pony title that I had been second a lot, and suddenly I had a feeling that it was all going to go well."

He added that he never felt nervous over the weekend, and said: "I was obviously anxious to do well, but I felt we were as well prepared as we could be.

"In fact, the reason we came here was because we felt we had every chance of winning."

Sunday's competition was the conclusion of four days of action at Blenheim, which saw thousands of people head to the Woodstock palace to watch.

Crowds were up 15 per cent on last year, with 60,000 having been predicted across the four days.

Princess Anne was among the guests on Friday in her role as president of World Horse Welfare, as she spoke about the charity's work and met with young riders.

Other winners included New Zealander Jonelle Price, who took victory in the eight and nine-year-old horse class, while Mike Jackson retained his Equestrian Masters Challenge title for the second year running.

Oxford man handed jail sentence

A MAN from Oxford has been sentenced to eight months in prison for stealing a car, assaulting a police officer and ripping off his electronic tag.

Daniel Westlake, 20, of Marlborough Road, Oxford, appeared at Banbury Magistrates' Court on September 10.

He pleaded guilty to theft of a motor vehicle, two counts of attempted theft of a motor vehicle, assaulting a constable in the execution of duty and criminal damage to a police electronic tag.

On September 7, Westlake stole a Peugeot car from Chilswell Road, Oxford, and stole £14 of fuel from the BP Express petrol station on the A40 at Wolvercote.

Westlake had previously attempted to steal two other cars earlier that day.

He drove the car while disqualified and without insurance and also damaged an electronic tag by ripping it off.

On his arrest on September 9, Westlake pushed a police officer in the face and chest.

Westlake was sentenced to four months' imprisonment for theft of a motor vehicle and four months for the two counts of attempted theft of a motor vehicle, to run consecutively.

He was handed two months for assaulting an officer and two months for driving while disqualified, to run concurrently with the previous sentences.

Over 400 take part in a big stroll for dementia

HUNDREDS of people strolled around Oxford University Parks on Sunday, raising tens of thousands of pounds for dementia research in the process.

More than 400 participants took part in the Oxford Memory Walk, believed to have raised £32,200 for the Alzheimer's Society, helping people living with dementia and their carers.

One of those was Jamie Anderson, son of Thunderbirds creator Gerry who died with dementia two years ago.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"I was delighted to be able to support Alzheimer's Society by starting their Oxford Memory Walk," said Jamie.

"The atmosphere at the walk was fantastic with lots of families coming together to remember and celebrate people close to them.

"The event looks set to raise lots of money for people living with dementia and their carers and I hope to be able to return next year."

Michelle Montgomery, from Oxford, also took part with her family in honour of her father Michael Mackay, who is living with dementia.

She said: "My father is in the later stages of dementia and was diagnosed three years ago.

"He attends Alzheimer's Society's 'Singing for Britain' group and it helps him and my mother hugely to meet other people in a similar situation.

"It's good to know they have that support and that's why events like Memory Walk which help fund services like these are so important."

Walkers completed routes of either two or 10 kilometres around the park, guided round by roller-skating marshals from roller derby team, Wheels of Gory.

Memory Walks take place across the country throughout the autumn as the Alzheimer's Society's main fundraising event.

Fiona Rackham, Alzheimer's Society's community fundraiser for Oxford, said: "This year's Memory Walk was absolutely superb.

"Alzheimer's Society is so grateful to the participants who turned up with their families to fight dementia.

"Thanks also to Jamie Anderson and all the staff and volunteers who helped out on the day."

Children's hospice reopens after 'gorgeous' makeover

DISABLED children, their families and even a movie star were on hand to celebrate Helen House's reopening on Monday evening following a major refurbishment.

Actor Tom Hollander joined in with the ribbon cutting to mark the completion of £1.5million of work to improve the Leopold Street children's hospice.

A more spacious reception area has been created, while numerous rooms including bedrooms and play areas were updated.

"It's more gorgeous than ever," said Tom. "It's the same in principle, just more beautiful.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"You just feel you're in a garden now, and when you're inside the building it feels like the garden is right there because of all the glass.

"There's a general feeling that it's all improved and not spoiled the essence of the place."

Helen House was the world's first children's hospice when it opened in 1982 in Oxford, and was followed by the launch of Douglas House for young adults in 2004.

Mike and Fi Illingworth, from Witney, regularly visit the hospice with their son Ollie, who has the life-limiting genetic condition MPS.

"We used to come with our other son Ben who we sadly lost two years ago, so we've had quite a broad range of help from Helen House over the years," said Mike.

"We want to give Ollie the best life that we can because unfortunately with the condition both the boys have, it means we're going to lose Ollie as well.

"The support we get from Helen House helps us to prepare for that, and for anyone else who doesn't have that network support who loses a child, it must be 100 times harder."

Fi added: "Having all the wonderful staff to look after the boys, it was just a bit of respite for us and we could get some sleep upstairs.

"Noting is too much trouble for the staff here."

Refurbishment began earlier this year, with services being moved to Douglas House next door while work was carried out

The hospice is still fundraising to pay for the work, having collected around £1m so far.

Kathy Patching, house manager at the hospice, said: "I think some of the parents who first came in couldn't believe the change.

"We've only been in for a few weeks, but we're noticing that looking after the children is much easier.

"It's been difficult working from Douglas House but we've managed incredibly well, and families have been very patient while work has been going on.

"The important thing is to get back and give families and children support."

Business club is set for kick-off

BUSINESSES across Oxfordshire are helping to launch a new initiative at London Welsh's home game against Gloucester on September 26.

The London Welsh Business Club is set to kick-off next Friday at the Kassam Stadium, Grenoble Road, Oxford.

Developed through a committee of local business people, including Mark Harrison, business development manager at Taylor Newspapers, which runs the Oxfordshire Guardian, its intention is for the club to develop working relationships within the county.

London Welsh chief executive Mike Stevens said: "We have been overwhelmed by the support we've already received from local business leaders, not just in their support of the rugby club, but also, specifically for their help, time and assistance in developing the business club.

"Its purpose is to bring business people together for networking, discussion and to hear from selected guest speakers drawn from the worlds of sport and business."

Roger Davies, founder of human resources company GazellaHR, also contributed to the business club's development.

He added: "From my perspective as a business owner, I see there is a definite link between entrepreneurs and rugby.

"I'm greatly looking forward to the first season of the business club kicking off."

To find out more information about the event and membership, email Paul O'Brien at paul.obrien@london-welsh.co.uk.

Council looks outside city for housing space

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THE leader of Oxford City Council claims the city's housing crisis is having a detrimental effect on its economic growth.

Oxford City Council published a 'Growth Strategy Route Map' on September 11 outlining the challenges it is facing in meeting housing demand.

And Cllr Bob Price says a lack of housing choice and affordability is holding back businesses, universities, hospitals and schools in the city.

Cllr Price said the route map is the city council's 'case' for dealing with the housing shortage, which has been causing "increased hardship for people and families".

He added: "It has also become a significant barrier to economic growth in a city which is a national economic driver."

Last year, a Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) revealed Oxford needs between 24,000 and 32,000 new homes between 2011 and 2031.

And the city council is now suggesting that half of its housing need could be met outside the Oxford Green Belt land.

Land south of Grenoble Road and Wick Farm, Barton, have been suggested as well as land north of Oxford, south of Kidlington, Yarnton and north of Abingdon.

Cllr Price continued: "Amongst the solutions which need to be considered and assessed are the current Green Belt boundaries.

"It may be that in releasing some areas we should consider extending the Green Belt for those villages where further development may not be appropriate."

Cllr Price says the planning decisions will be taken by all five of the county's district councils and their individual local plans.

He said it could take between 12 and 18 months to identify a solution and Green Belt review.

Director of the Oxfordshire branch of the Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE), Helen Marshall, says the city council needs to look within it's own boundaries before branching out.

She added: "What it should not be doing is bullying districts or prioritising development on the Green Belt.

"It seems to me that they are trying to push for a review of the Oxford Green Belt and look for significant expansion."

Vale of White Horse District Council leader Matthew Barber added: "We will need to make some unpalatable decisions such as sites north of Abingdon just to meet the Vale's own housing need.

"We believe there are sites within the city that they should consider first before they start identifying sites outside of Oxford."

Cllr Kieron Mallon said about the campaign: "It is a huge honour and we are thrilled to have been presented with this prestigious award."

Raymond to serve up a treat at Thame's annual food gala

• Raymond Blanc at last year's Thame Food Festival

CELEBRITY chefs will be taking over Thame's high street later this month as the town's annual food festival returns for another year.

Great British Bake-Off winners Edd Kimber and John Whaite will also have their whisks at the ready.

Festival patron Lotte Duncan said: "We've really got an incredible roll-call of cheffing talent coming to Thame on the day, as well as our biggest ever array of local and artisan food and drink, hands-on workshops and exciting live entertainment."

From 4.30pm chefs from Raymond Blanc's Cookery School will take on their counterparts from Aylesbury College in a cook-off.

There will also be food and drink workshops at the Stoneworld Gallery in the Upper High Street and the Upper Chamber in the Town Hall throughout the day.

Marking the war's centenary

OVER the summer there were many events marking the 100th anniversary of the outbreak of the First World War.

Each was different – from names on the war memorial being read out in Wallingford to the unveiling of the Memorial Arch in Folkestone.

For me, perhaps the most moving of all was when people all over the country put their lights out.

It's so important we don't just remember for a day or a week, but we learn the lessons of what became known as the Great War, which sadly was not, as so many hoped, the war to end all wars.

In particular, getting young people to engage with the war's impact is a challenge.

I was delighted to come across a truly imaginative way to do just that set up by one of my constituents - a Facebook page of a soldier-to-be at facebook.com/WW1SoldiersTale.

It sets all the events in the context of family and friends, and local and national happenings at the time.

Not least was the campaign for votes for women: it is still less than a century since women at all were allowed to vote, and only in 1924 – within living memory - were women finally able to vote on the same basis as men.

With an amazing 80 per cent turnout expected at the Scottish Independence referendum it's a timely reminder that we can take our democracy and our right to participate for granted.

Over the next few months, the electoral roll which will be in place for the 2015 General Election will be compiled.

Please make sure you encourage anyone just coming up to 18 to look at the Facebook page and to get on the electoral roll.

PLANS to build an assessment centre in Eynsham for children at risk of going into care were revealed yesterday.

Oxfordshire County Council is looking to build at Litchfield Farm, off Merton Court, to give short-term housing for up to six children.

It is hoped it will reduce the need for children aged 12 to 17 to be sent away from Oxfordshire.

The council said it put the site forward because it is quite isolated from residential areas and has enough land for outdoor space.

Melinda Tilley, the council's cabinet member for children, education and families, believes the centre will be valuable for the county's vulnerable children.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

She said: "As well as ensuring their safety, this would reduce the need to send children to out-of-county placements many miles away, which cannot be as effectively monitored and also costs the taxpayer more.

"There would be a constant staff presence to supervise and support young people at the assessment centre.

"As far as possible, we want our children to feel part of the local community but our priority is to provide a safe and secure environment for them to develop and grow."

Residents viewed the plans at Eynsham Village Hall yesterday afternoon ahead of the start of the formal planning process.

Plans for another two in Didcot and Thame were revealed earlier this year and a fourth, on a site to be decided, are also underway.

The council hopes the four homes will provide 20 new places for vulnerable children in Oxfordshire.

Cllr Tilley added: "We all have a responsibility to help keep children safe, especially vulnerable people who have often experienced traumatic childhoods."

News Bites

Gas warning

OXFORD: One in 10 homes in the city have an unsafe gas appliance, according to research by the Gas Safe Register.

Engineers from the organisation inspected 1,178 homes in Oxford over the past four years, where they discovered the hazardous appliances.

This statistic made Oxford one of the most dangerous areas in the South East for gas safety.

Shop burgled

BURFORD: More than £10,000 worth of sports clothing was burgled from a shop in High Street on September 6.

Offenders broke into Orvis store and stole jackets, skirts and jumpers at about 4.15am.

Thieves left two scaffolding planks at the entrance, and a witness has said they heard shouting in the street and a vehicle pulling away.

Country's first

OXON: Oxfordshire has been named the country's first 'Social Enterprise Place'.

It follows a successful bid to Social Enterprise UK by Oxfordshire Social Entrepreneurship Partnership (OSEP) – an organisation set up by the city's two universities and support group Student Hubs.

OSEP aims to support entrepreneurs to plan, develop and grow their businesses.

Homes, Gardens & Interiors

With the summer starting to dwindle away and the leaves starting to fall, many people all over the country will be getting ready for the winter months. Woolly hats, scarves, gloves, frost bite, getting dark early and ice scrapers are just some of the things that we will be getting used to in the next few weeks, as the summer of 2014 waves goodbye.

So when the people of Britain are bracing themselves for the autumn and winter months, many home, garden and interior businesses across the UK will now be rubbing their hands in excitement and licking their lips in anticipation of the money that they will be making.

With the weather gradually changing, many people will be restricted to staying in doors which can lead to decisions such as, "I think it's time for a fire place', or, 'I think it's time for new furniture' etc.

The winter months seem to make us feel that a change is needed around the house or garden, and you can see why. One year is ending with another one about to begin, so you want to end on a high, and start with a bang by saying, "my garden or my home looks amazing".

Gardens and homes are always work in progress, and the homeowner will never be satisfied until they know that they are happy with the end product.

It can be a stressful time for the homeowner: Hard decisions to make about what needs to change around the house, budgets to kept in tact and most importantly, the work that will be going on around the house or garden.

In Oxfordshire, there are a number of businesses that would happily help you find that piece of furniture, which is just right for you, or, help you redesign the front room of your house.

We spoke to a few businesses in the county to see why they can help you with your home, garden and interior dilemmas.

How To Create A Rustic Bedroom

Get back to basics with a simple rustic style bedroom full of minimalistic oak and pine furniture. De-clutter, de-stress and re-energise in a bedroom that is like a breath of fresh air. Authentic oak and pine wardrobes, chest of drawers and additional storage units are the foundation pieces for creating a rustic bedroom where you can sleep soundly and dream peacefully.

For a rustic bedroom, the idea is to bring the great outdoors into your home with wood, wood and more wood! There's something so relaxing about a minimalist space that is close to nature so this theme is perfect for the bedroom. Oak and pine bedside tables, storage units and blanket boxes create so much storage space that keeping your room tidy and clutter-free is easy. Even if you're in the middle of a busy town, our extensive range of rustic bedroom furniture will make you feel as though you are dozing off in the middle of your own private country-side retreat.

Bring the feel of the great outdoors to you with stunning bookcases, wardrobes and entertainment units. Rustic decor is meant to be rugged and unfinished, full of natural textures and rough finishes. If you are just starting out on your rustic bedroom remodel, begin with natural woods, simple accessories and colours and fabrics that complement each other to avoid the room looking like a mismatch of themes. Once you have the foundations of your rustic room in place and you want to add a slightly more authentic and rugged feature, a DIY rustic headboard is the pinnacle of rustic chic. This is relatively inexpensive to create, all you need is a few planks of wood – stain them to a finish of your choice and fix it in place and there you have it; instant rustic chic in one step!

Neutral tones and a link to nature are an absolute must for a cosy countryside feel in your rustic bedroom. Bright, white linens, a neutral colour scheme and plenty of carefully chosen flowers or plants are ideal. Think creating your own barn-like conversion in your bedroom, with just enough homely touches to make it sophisticatedly shabby-chic. A rustic bedroom doesn't have to mean an ugly space without style; if you get your rustic chic just right, your bedroom will rival even the most glamorous of spaces.

Discover a Trade Secret

IN this economic climate it appears that many people are spending less time on individual pursuits in favour of spending more time with friends and family and the home has taken on an extra importance.

The business model is simple - they buy cancelled or returned orders and over-runs from some of the most respected British high street stores and sell directly to the customer at hugely discounted prices.

The nature of the business also means that the stock changes constantly and that's what is so appealing – you never know what you will find so it's always worth a look to check out what new and exciting items have arrived on the floor.

This is a winning formula as most consumers are willing to invest in their home if they can find value for money—and when they do, they are prepared to spend.

Even though many home furniture stores have suffered after-effects of the recession, it appears that shoppers are still buying essential furniture items for the home. The 26,000 sq ft warehouse is stocked full of beds, sofas (fabric & leather), chairs, dining tables, mattresses, bookcases, mirrors, lamps, rugs, sofa beds, coffee tables, lamps, TV units and much, much more, all at bargain prices.

As an independent company is it able to be flexible in its approach to the consumer, offering deeper discounts and value for money offers in response to the current economic climate.

Furnishing your home with quality products from some of the most respected high street stores at less than retail price is not a dream—it's a reality at Trade Secret.

"Our showroom is specifically designed to inspire. You will be able to browse easily and take in everything we have to offer – and there's plenty on offer! From the moment you walk in our relaxed and friendly staff are ready to assist and advise', said company founder, Charles Wheeler.

"Not only will you bag a bargain but you can also take it away the same day—no waiting 6-8 weeks for a delivery - what you see on the floor is what's in stock for immediate collection or delivery. I like to think that we are to furniture what Bicester Village is to fashion', he added.

The Twyford Mill estate also houses Fired Earth's flagship showroom and is only a stones throw from Bicester Village—what could be better than a trip into the Oxfordshire countryside to find quality products at sustainable bargain prices.

Welcome to Ford Logs

FORD logs are a leading producer of quality dry firewood based in Southern Oxfordshire and despite being a small company, we're a friendly company that are here to help you.

We specialise in producing quality dry Beech and Ash logs for woodburners, open fires and fire pits and despite being based in South Oxfordshire, we deliver all over Oxfordshire, Berkshire and Wiltshere.

Unlike our competitors, we do not use other mixed hardwoods and to give the consumer peace of mind that a quality product will be received, all of our logs are inspected before being loaded onto our vehicles.

Our firewood is UK sourced (ideally within a 40 mile radius of our yard) from local estates, Parklands, Managed Forests, local arborists and our own tree surgery business, with all of our wood being well seasoned and barn stored.

Beech and Ash produce greater BTU's therefore generating a longer burn, generating a greater heat source and saving you money.

Quality control is taken seriously within Fordlogs, knowing that the wood you receive is at its optimum and ready to burn.

All of our wood is constantly monitored with moisture reading devices, with no wood leaving the yard above 22% moisture content (unless specified).

All of our logs are delivered loosely and not off loaded 'Roadside'. We can tip very close to where the logs are to be stacked.

We also offer a professional Stacking service if required at very competitive rate.

Simply fill in the contact form via our website with your enquiry, or alternatively call us to discuss your individual requirements.

We specialize and offer quality well seasoned Beech and Ash logs that won't disappoint you.

Primarily as a landscaping company, we can guarantee a quality product, as we don't rely on logs as our main source of income.

We also offer quality low m/c Kindling, which is neatly packed in small bags (for ease in starting fires). We offer a complete stacking service starting from £10.00.

For more information you can visit www.fordlogs.co.uk or contact us on 07880 690 925, 01367 718 551 and logs@fordlogs.co.uk. In addition with that, you can visit our sister site for all your landscaping, design and grounds management requirements. Visit www.fordlandscaping.co.uk

Relax with The Sitting Room

WITH autumn in the air, the leaves turning on the trees and the nights drawing in, we turn our attentions more to the interiors of our homes and making plans for cosy evenings in.

With the majority of people in the country being restricted to stay indoors due the weather changing, the warmth of our homes can make us think a change is needed around the house.

So, to help you with your interior dilemmas for the autumn, we have got a fine range of sofas, chairs, recliners, sofa beds and more. We have everything you need to help you have a warm and cosy autumn.

Not only does the colour palette of nature change at this time of year but the trends inside our homes swing more towards rich, warm tones with heather hues, mulberry and a colour we will see a lot of this season: indigo which will be making its appearance within vibrant florals and velvets amongst many other guises.

Mixing fabric textures is a must for autumn. Woolen windowpane checks, plaids and subtle herringbones blend beautifully with a whole host of fabrics.

It's never been easier to make your home inviting and comfortable for the colder months, subtle statements can transform a bland or more muted look by simply adding a sumptuous throw or some scatter cushions.

If you want to create a splash of colour and generate that cosy atmosphere, go for jewelry shades like amethyst, ruby and sapphire, this will help to build an opulent, warm feel.

It's also a good time to think about layering up the windows to keep the cold outside and the warmth in. Easily done with a combination of blinds for privacy and curtains to soften and finish the look, again mixing textures and fabrics can really help to maximize the use of bringing subtle colour into a room. The mood lighting, which is created with lamps will help to give a cosy and snug feel on a chilly autumn evening.

For further information about any of our products, you can visit our website www.thesittingroom.co.uk or ring us at 01235 531 738.

Comic on how to be easygoing and happy

COMEDIAN Jon Richardson, known as a team captain on hit TV series '8 out of 10 Cats' and for his stand-up routines, comes to Oxford's New Theatre on Sunday.

Jon is returning to the road with his Nidiot tour, documenting his determination to become a more easygoing person.

The show tells of his strive to change, and whether he succeeds or is doomed to be angry forever.

"The main theme for Nidiot is being happy," said Jon.

"Because I now live with my girlfriend, this is the first time I've gone on tour as a happy person.

"The show is about me looking back and realising that nothing was really wrong – I created problems for myself by over-thinking things.

"I came to the realisation that I hadn't been happy for the last 10 years because I'd thought too much about risks rather than just having fun. Now I fight less, but I tut a lot more."

Stand-up and touring is something that Jon has been doing for many years, and has risen to become one of the country's most well-known comics.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

He also regularly appears on TV and radio, including on 'Live at the Apollo', 'Have I Got News For You' and 'Never Mind the Buzzcocks'.

"I'll be doing stand-up for the rest of my life," Jon added.

"The opportunities that it grants you can't be denied. It is both the hardest thing I do and the thing I enjoy most.

"I'm obsessed with keeping things tidy, so when I'm focused on the job in hand on stage, it's a blessed relief from folding towels in the dressing room!"

Jon's show at the New Theatre starts at 8pm. For more information, go to newtheatreoxford.org.uk.

Conquering Oxfordshire

SHE Stoops to Conquer, an 18th Century comedy, will be at the Oxford Playhouse next week.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Wealthy countryman Mr Hardcastle arranges for his daughter Kate to meet Charles Marlow, the son of a wealthy Londoner, hoping the pair will marry.

Jon Trenchard, playing the mischievous and cheeky Tony Lumpkin, says he can't wait to perform at the Oxford Playhouse again for the show.

"The Oxford Playhouse was the first ever proper theatre I performed in (The Oxford Greek Plays in 1995: playing Polydorus in Hecuba) so it is always special to come back and perform there," he said.

"It's a great space because it has a fairly large capacity but still feels quite intimate."

She Stoops to Conquer was first performed in 1773 and has since seen many adaptations.

The Oxford Playhouse production runs from Tuesday, September 23, until Saturday, September 27.

Trenchard, 37, added: "It is always a privilege to perform classic drama because as an actor on stage you get to build bridges between the era when the drama was written and our own age.

"The choices you make as an actor about a role are dependent on the rehearsal environment, the director, the choices of the other actors and the audience, so I don't find studying past performances very helpful.

"However, I have heard that Tony is often portrayed as an overweight simpleton.

"Conrad Nelson our director didn't want that so I think that my Tony will be more mischievous and cunning."

For more information about She Stoops to Conquer or for tickets, visit oxfordplayhouse.com or call 01865 305305.

WIN tickets to see Memphis The Musical!

Direct from its smash hit Broadway run and a triumphant 55-city North American tour, the multi award-winning musical MEMPHIS is set to be London's hottest new destination!

In the underground nightclubs of 1950s Memphis, Tennessee, the soul of a new era is dawning as the first incredible sounds of rock 'n' roll, blues and gospel are emerging into the mainstream.

Falling in love with a beautiful club singer, one young man's vision to bring her voice and her music out of the clubs and onto the airwaves of America will fly in the face of cultural divides and spark a music revolution that will shake the world.

Starring the Queen of British soul, multi-award-winning recording artist Beverley Knight (The Bodyguard) and West End star Killian Donnelly (The Commitments, Billy Elliot the Musical, Les Misérables) with original songs by GRAMMY® winner and Bon Jovi co-founder David Bryan, and a gripping true-life inspired story from writer Joe DiPietro, MEMPHIS will leave you exhilarated by its explosive blend of electrifying music, soaring emotion and roof-raising energy.

For more information and to buy tickets to the show, please visit: www.memphisthemusical.com

Peugeot's new runabout

REVIEW: Peugeot 108 Allure 1.2 VTi 5dr

By Philip Shoulder

@writeonmotoring

JOINING the well-regarded Toyota Aygo and Citroen C1 urban runabouts is Peugeot's new 108 – the third car in the Japanese/French alliance.

Sharing the same platform and engines, the 108 gets its own look in keeping with the latest Peugeot models: comprising a chrome grille, narrow, tapering headlights and distinctive claw print rear lights.

In addition to the usual safety features, electric windows, central locking and LED running lights are standard across the range.

On all bar base level Access trim, there's a multi-function steering wheel, 7" touch screen and air conditioning, while plusher Allure adds a rev counter, keyless entry, auto lights and a rear reversing camera.

First impressions of 108's interior are mainly positive.

This high-spec Allure model boasts porcelain coloured dash inserts, an attractive piano black finished centre control cluster and touch-screen infotainment system.

It's all easy to operate, as is the rest of the switchgear – although some of this feels a bit flimsy. The hard scratchy plastic door cards are unlikely to win many fans either.

Despite its diminutive dimensions, the 108 manages to offer genuine four-seater accommodation.

The one-piece moulded front seats look good and are comfortable.

A city car is never going to boast the biggest of boots, and the 108's 196 litres remains small, even though it's 139 litres larger than the old 107's. However, this extends to 760 litres with the 50:50 split seats folded.

Upon start-up the motor sounds quite unrefined, with vibration permeating the cabin. Initially it also seems difficult to pull away and crawl along in traffic smoothly – the car faltering, until you learn to overcompensate with more revs as the clutch bites, which sorts the problem.

Paradoxically for a modestly powered city car, the 108 actually comes into its own at higher speeds, where refinement also improves.

Liberal application of throttle overcomes the comparative lack of torque (116 Nm) and sees this French tot zip along enthusiastically (0-62 mph in 11 seconds) against a characterful three-cylinder wail.

A slick, 'knife-through-butter' five-speed manual gearbox and accurate, nicely weighted steering adds to the car's appeal.

The 108 makes a fine fist of motorway work, too – with rather intrusive road roar (at higher speeds) being the only annoyance.

Peugeot 108 Allure 1.2 VTi 5dr

FACTS at a glance

Peugeot 108 Allure 1.2 VTi 5dr
Price £11,395
Engine 4 cyls in line, 1199cc, petrol
Power 82bhp at 5750rpm
Torque 116 Nm at 2750rpm

Top speed 106mph
Economy 65.7mpg (combined)

VERDICT

Peugeot's newcomer might be a little way off class best, but the 108 is a solid improvement over its venerable 107 predecessor.

This French city-car is also capable out of town, good looking, well equipped and surprisingly fun to drive.

Burnell convinced Welsh can turn season around

City on form

OXFORD City continued their fine goal-scoring form against Bradford Park Avenue, beating the West Yorkshire side 5-0 on Monday evening.

Jose Lapoujade gave City the lead after just eight minutes as he nodded home from a corner, before Adi Yussuf missed a penalty just before half-time that would have doubled the visitors' lead.

Bradford had a shot cleared off the line shortly after the break, but the introduction of City substitute Tom Winters changed the game as he scored twice in two minutes.

Felipe Barcelos added a fourth on 72 minutes and Lewis Wilson got the fifth in injury time to take City's total to 14 goals in their last three games.

It followed a 2-0 win for City at home to Gainsborough Trinity on Saturday, with goals coming from Yussuf and Javi Rodriguez.

City are back in action on Saturday as they make the trip to Guiseley for their latest league encounter.

HEAD coach Justin Burnell is adamant London Welsh will come good despite seeing his side ship over 50 points for the second time this season last Saturday.

The Exiles were beaten 53-26 by Bath, leaving them bottom of the Aviva Premiership on points difference after two matches.

Bath racked up seven tries in last Saturday's win and not even a four-try bonus point for Welsh could lessen Burnell's frustration.

"I'm never going to be happy," said Burnell, whose side were beaten 52-0 by Exeter Chiefs on the opening day of the season.

"It would be nice to walk away and say we scored four tries and got a bonus point, but at the end of the day it's 53 points.

"We've rectified other areas because we got points on the board this week, but if you allow 53 points you won't beat nobody.

"That's what we've got to rectify. We'll get there; I've no doubt in that. We will come good."

Missed tackles were also a cause of irritation for Burnell as they have played a contributing factor in the defeats to Exeter and Bath.

"Individual players have to

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

make tackles," said Burnell.

"Last week we saw too many individual errors.

"You come to the Rec against a Bath side who should be in the play-offs with the squad they've got and you score four tries and you're able to compete, but it keeps coming down to the same old thing, that one-on-one individual error."

He continued: "We put a performance together but the one area which was a concern last week unfortunately was the same area this week.

"I think we're more than capable of scoring tries, I think we're more than capable of competing physically, but that's the area we've got to get right."

The Exiles are next in action on Saturday when they take on Sale Sharks at the AJ Bell Stadium.

Sale have also had a difficult start to the season, having lost their opening games to Bath and Gloucester.

Barkley looking for defensive improvement after first games

• Olly Barkley (Picture by Martin John)

FLY-HALF Olly Barkley says he is excited by London Welsh's attack, but says he and his teammates must improve defensively.

Barkley kicked three conversions during the Exiles' 53-26 defeat at Bath last Saturday, their second successive defeat in the Aviva Premiership.

And while last weekend's performance was an improvement on the 52-0 opening day defeat to Exeter Chiefs, Barkley says defensive errors need to be rectified.

"Our attack looks good at the moment and it will get a lot better," he said.

"We need to feed off that energy and apply it to the defence as well.

"We can't butter up what's gone on defensively; 100 points in two games is unacceptable.

"This side is better than that and we need to be better than that."

Welsh will hope for further improvement on Saturday when they face Sale Sharks.

Relief for United after earning first league win

MICHAEL Appleton said he was relieved after Oxford United recorded their first league victory of the season with a 3-1 win over 10-man Accrington Stanley on Tuesday night.

Danny Hylton, Michael Collins and Tyrone Barnett netted for the U's as Appleton's side ended their seven-match winless start to their Sky Bet League Two campaign.

And statistically United are looking better off with six goals scored in their last two home games and an unbeaten record of four games, following three-straight previous draws.

"If I'm being honest, it's probably more relief than anything, just to get that monkey off our back," said Appleton.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"I'm delighted but we genuinely don't want to stop here.

"To come through a difficult period it takes some brave players."

Brian Howard, who signed on Tuesday, made his debut and an immediate impact as his wonderful pass set up Hylton to slot home on 15 minutes.

However, United's lead did not last long as Marcus Carver tapped home just moments later to bring the sides level.

United restored their advantage in brilliant style on 36 minutes when Collins lobbed Joseph Lumley from 40 yards, and moments later the visitors were down to 10 as James Gray was sent off after an altercation with Johnny Mullins.

From thereon United dominated and Barnett, making his home debut, added a third on 71 minutes, making the most of Luke Joyce's horrific back pass.

Despite the eventual convincing manner of the win, the U's were constantly forced backwards by Accrington in the opening half hour, leading to boos from sections of the home supporters.

And Appleton said the boos made him more determined.

"It's not about having to cope with people booing and getting a little cautious, it's about what we do and the group of people that are in that dressing room staying strong," he added.

"It's good because I want people to come to Oxford United and I want the football club to have an identity.

"When they come and watch they know we will play a style of football that will want them to come back."

United welcome Stevenage to the Kassam Stadium on Saturday and Appleton is urging his side to keep up momentum.

"We have got another important, tough game at home on Saturday to make sure we keep kicking on," he said.

"We have to make sure we still bring this performance to the party on Saturday."

• Tyrone Barnett celebrates after scoring Oxford United's third in the 3-1 win over Accrington Stanley on Tuesday night (Picture by Steve Daniels)

• Carolyne Dufley won gold in the wheelchair rugby and heavyweight powerlifting at the Invictus Games

Double gold for Didcot's Dufley

DIDCOT'S Carolyne Dufley admits claiming two gold medals at the inaugural Invictus Games was more than she could have ever wished for.

The 32-year-old was a crucial part of the Great Britain wheelchair rugby team that swept all before them at the games championed by Prince Harry.

In last Friday evening's final, Dufley and her teammates edged past their American opponents 13-12 in front of a sell-out crowd at the Copper Box Arena in Stratford's Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park.

And Dufley, who has spinal cord, disc and muscle damage, wasn't finished there as she went on to claim gold in the women's heavyweight powerlifting.

"Getting the gold medals means more than anything else I've ever wanted in my life," said Dufley, who serves with the 3 Logistic Support Regiment in Abingdon.

"We've all worked so hard, so many hours of training and dedication, falling out of chairs and getting bruises."

The Invictus Games are an international sporting event for wounded, injured and sick service personnel.

And Dufley wasn't Oxford's only representative at the Games with Adam Clarke managing to win silver in the road cycling time trial event.

Heavy defeat to Highmoor for Milton

MILTON United were thumped 4-0 at home by league leaders Highmoor Ibis in the Hellenic Premier Division on Tuesday night.

The defeat leaves them 13th in the table with seven points from five games and the challenge doesn't get any easier this weekend as third-placed Highworth Town visit Potash Lane.

Milton were also knocked out of the FA Cup last Saturday, losing 3-0 at Abingdon United in the first qualifying round.

Elsewhere, Thame United drew 1-1 with Ascot United on Tuesday after being dumped out of the FA Cup by Burnham at the weekend.

Meanwhile, Oxford City Nomads edged a seven-goal thriller against Reading Town last Saturday for their fifth win of the season, but Kidlington were beaten 2-1 by Ascot.

After the FA Cup intercepted the league schedule last weekend, all the teams are in Hellenic action on Saturday.

Nomads welcome Ardley to Marsh Lane, Kidlington travel to Bracknell and Thame make the trip to Cheltenham Saracens.

Smith satisfied with seventh at Misano

OXFORD'S MotoGP rider Bradley Smith left Misano in a positive mood after finishing seventh in the San Marino GP last Sunday.

The 23-year-old is currently 10th in the standings with 74 points and was content with seventh after disappointing results in Brno and Silverstone in recent weeks.

Smith qualified ninth and had moved up to eighth by the first lap before running wide on turn seven on the second lap.

He battled his way back to eighth before benefiting from championship leader Marc Marquez crashing out from second and subsequently finishing 15th.

Smith said: "Even though seventh is not where I intend to be, it's definitely positive.

"Considering how tough the weekend was here last year, the performance this time is a significant improvement, but I want to be fighting for fifth.

"Therefore, there's some more work to be done, but the team did a great job and now we will push onwards to close in on the Ducati's."

Factory Yamaha rider Valentino Rossi won the race, but is still 75 points behind Marquez in third.

• Bradley Smith (Picture courtesy of Tech 3)

Williams head east

• Felipe Massa finished third in the Italian Grand Prix at Monza on September 6 (Picture courtesy of Williams Martini Racing)

WILLIAMS Martini Racing will be hoping to continue their strong form as they head east for this weekend's Singapore Grand Prix.

Felipe Massa recorded his first podium of the season last time out in Italy, while Valtteri Bottas recovered from a poor start to finish fourth.

The points earned in Italy helped the Grove-based squad to leapfrog Ferrari into third in the Formula One constructors' championship standings, with Williams hoping for more points this weekend.

"The Singapore race is fantastic, but also exceptionally difficult as the temperatures are so high and the humidity affects the drivers physically," said Massa.

"But I really enjoy the race and hope to carry the success we had in Monza into the remaining races of the season."

Bottas added: "The track is very challenging and there's no room for mistakes.

"Singapore could be a little more difficult for us compared to Monza, but we have some aero updates which should give us more downforce.

"We go there hoping to fight with Ferrari and Red Bull but we know Mercedes will be very strong."

Sport Bites

'Quins beaten

OXFORD Harlequins lost their first game of the season on Saturday, as they were beaten 30-15 away to Brixham.

It means that Harlequins now sit fifth in the National League 3 South West standings after their opening two games with five points.

In the South West 1 East, Grove's poor start to the season continued as they lost 25-3 to Towcestrians.

Grove are the only side without a point in the league, and sit bottom of the standings after their first two fixtures.

And Witney were also defeated in the same league, losing 36-19 to Newbury Blues.

Witney are tied sixth in the table.

All three return to action on Saturday as Harlequins are at home to Chard, Grove travel to Trowbridge and Witney host Buckingham.

Pep in top-five

ABINGDON golfer Eddie Pepperell recorded his third top-five finish in four tournaments as he came fourth at the KLM Open in the Netherlands on Sunday.

Rounds of 69, 68, 66 and 66 were good enough for Pepperell to finish on 11 under par, and collected €90,000 for his efforts.

He finished three shots behind tournament winner Paul Casey, and has moved up to 200th place in the World Golf Rankings.

DIDDY HOPE TO KEEP UP FORM

Concannon urges squad to carry on after Evesham win

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

IAN Concannon says his message to the players is to carry on from where they left off against Evesham United as Didcot Town make the trip to Clevedon Town in Division One South & West on Saturday.

Didcot are unbeaten in two games in the league, but had a free Saturday last weekend due to their early exit in the FA Cup.

Last time out, John Mills' third hat-trick of the season helped the Railwaymen to a 3-1 win at Evesham and joint boss Concannon is targeting another victory this weekend.

"The message will be to carry on from Evesham," said Concannon.

"If we produce a performance like we did at Evesham, we will win a game of football.

"We are only as good as our last game and we need to make sure we are at it.

"We have not had a game for a week, but we have been training Tuesday, Thursday, leading up to Saturday and we're looking to gain three points, but then again so will they.

"It will be a tough game, but hopefully we will have too much for them."

Concannon hoped the free week would give his squad a chance to shake off any knocks or injuries ahead of this Saturday's fixture.

However, despite having 15 first team players fully fit, Matt Clark (knee) and Josh Dutton-Black (ankle) are doubts, while this weekend is too soon for Lance Williams and Ryan Brooks (both hamstring).

Concannon added: "We've got 15, which accounts for four quality subs on the bench, so we will still be going down there strong.

"Those players that are out there playing need to make sure they keep them all out of the team, that's what it's all about."

One player who will definitely not feature on Saturday is Luke Abrahart who, after signing for Didcot in the summer, has returned to Swindon Supermarine.

Concannon said: "He lost quite a large chunk of pre-season due to other commitments.

"He never really had a decent run at it and obviously the lads were ahead of him in the team at the time.

"He just wants to play, I totally understand that and he's gone up to Marine."
